THE TRIBUNE.

For The New-York Tribune. Wieked Young Men --- Volunteers of Engines. &c.

If the Mayor would send some Constables to arrest many of the young men who congregate about the corner of Columbia and Houston-sts. it would be doing full as much good if not more than taking up the vile girls on Broadway.-Young men they ought not to be called, as some of them are far worse than any savages of the wild wilderness. Worse even than brutes they ought to be called by the public, if the crimes were known that they have perpetrated on very young, innocent females. We said worse, be cause the male brute quadrupeds are never known to form companies and combinations to torture the opposite sex, to compel subjection to more than brutal desires. Young females are thus sedeced by these wretches, and then, when their victims from exposure become public girls, the wretched creatures are punished in the Tombs, and the worse than villains are permitted to go at large!

By the common law, when a young, strong fellow is following nothing for a living but loafering and idleness, he is a vagrant, and liable to the penalty. But should one of these fellows be brought up by his friend the Constable to the Police Office, he is then found to belong as volunteer to some up town Engine, and that Engine Company to some party, who want the services of the brutes for a hurra; so the party Inspector of the Ward becomes his security, (as was noticed last year when a citizen in an upper Ward was almost beaten to death by one of these brutes, and the Inspector came to the Police as his bail,) and again takes his station at the corner of Houston and Columbia streets, for further progress in vileness, to the disgrace of New-York and its Police, and to the extreme morafication of the friends of Republican Government. Now it may be asked, under which of the civilized monarchies of the world, whether Christian or Turkish, or whether under the government of the American Savages, young females are so insecure in their persons as in this City, infested by those wretches with "red shirts" and human forms? And what, too, are we to say of many young

Members of the Bar, who, when the poor young creatures are giving testimony that would make the heart of Benevolence and Justice sick, are found enlisting themselves on the part of the well-known wretches, and browbeating the poor, violated girl, until the guilty fiend, by the technicality of law, is thus enabled to escape! Oh! Nineveh aud Sodom! how many degrees less deep in guilt and wickedness is now this once moral and rightcous Empire City?

THE CHEROKEES .- The capacity of the North merican Indians is being, if it has not already been, satisfactorily tested in the case of the Cherokee nation. To say nothing of the physiological fact, that the brain of the Indian, even unstimulated by education, gives evidence of a men-tal power and activity only inferior to that of the rely white man-the Anglo-Saxon stream from Caucassus (oh, horo our friend, Dr. McDowell, waxeth eloquent on this subject !)-the fact of their possession of an alphabet invented by one of themselves-the fact that the aboriginal mind is capable not only of understanding and esticonferred by kno ledge, but capable, also, of inpenting-the means of appropriating and diffusing its benefits among the red men, proves that the words savage and sympathy may be closely associated, and invests the future of the forest children with redoubled intest. We open the Cherokee Advocate and look through its columns with the deepest solicitude, and never do we lay it down without pleasing evidences that their career is still onward and upward. A second pshave not, as yet, received it, and the Bible, laws and intelligence are diffusing their light in every Mr. Ross, the Editor of the Advocate, savs :

"Tablequab, the place where we hall is situated some eighteen miles east of Fort Gibson. It became the seat of Government of the Cherokee nation in 1839, after the reunion of the Eastern and Western branches of the Cherokee family."

After it became the scat of Government, umber of 'log cabins' were 'thrown up' about the place, without, however, much regard to order, as they were designed for the temporary ac-commodation of those engaged in the transaction of public business. But a regular town having been laid off last winter, and a number of lots sold to citizens of the nation, these cabins will be re moved and others built, which will present a bat er appearance. A few houses have, however, been already erected, and others are in contem plation, of the 'jam up' kind,

The Supreme Court has just opened its annua session in a new and commodious brick Court-House, which, in point of neatness and durability, is surpassed by no building of the kind in Ar-kansas. And here it is that the Bible Society hold their regular meetings, the last of which is spoken of as having been most interesting.

While, however, we read these facts with delight, with what disgust do we peruse such a paragraph as the following. Truly, there never was or will be, we suppose, an Eden without its Devil, and truly may the Indian regard the white man

Savage, the civilized crime and the barbarian judgment!
The Cherokees, among themselves, we fear, have but too many scurvy specimens of the abroad upon us with an eye of not unmingled admiration. say nothing of our downright crime-sur daily outrage of every law, human and divine-atrocities to which Indian cruelty is comparatively blameless—how must they regard the cold-blooded malice and slanders conceived and brought forth by that venomous hag-Party. Hear hew an Indian (the Edi or of the Advo-sar, while he read some party papers, and heard some political harangues, what manner of men would he describe, on returning to his country, as being the Big Man of the pale-faces?"

Decisions. John Newcastle vs. William Le Roy.—Motion in relation to retaxation of costs. The Court said it had been in the habit of allowing, on motions for commissions, discoveries, and such, $10 for costs of motion; but such would not be done hereafter, as they must be taxed according to the fee bills. The taxes to stand, except as to the item of $10, which is to be retaxed.

John Wood, assignee of the Sheriff, vs. Michael Connolly.—Application to set saide proceedings on a bail bond on the ground that special bail having been required by plaintiff, and exceptions made so as to compel the surrent to justify the Sheriff could not assign the bail bond. The Court does not think so. The Sheriff had a right to assign.—Motion denied.

George W. Platt vs. Maria Blakely and others.—

George W. Plant vs. Auria B'akely and others. In an action of ejectment, where tenants refuse to allow there selves to be considered parties, the handlord has a right to con in and defend in their names.—Motion in this case denied.

Reynoids McMillan vs. Thomas C. Winthrop.—Appeal.—Plaintiff brought an action in the 12th and 16th Wai Courts, which was postponed to a certain time. About ha an hour after the time, the defendant not appearing, the Jutice proceeded, took proofs, and gave judgment for plaintiff atto ney appeared, stated that he had been detained on the road by indisposition, and asked to have the cause opened. The Junices was willing to do so, but the plaintiff, although his will messes were stil present, refused to have such done. Appendimade. The Court considers, under the circumstances, the cause ought to have been opened, particularly as there is regulation in the Justices' Courts to wait half an hour from the time appointed.—New trial granted, without costs to eithe party.

John H. Robinson we Abender 10.

John H. Robicson vs. Abraham B. Conger.—Ap-John H. Robinson vs. Abraham B. Conger.—Ap-eal.—Action in the Marine Court to receiver commissions as a roker. Conger, wishing to raise $30,000, employed an agent amed Green to apply to a broker for the purpose. Green ap-hied to Robinson, and the latter told him he could tell him there he might get the money, and it was agreed that if the loney was procured, Robinson was to have $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. com-nissions. Robinson referred the parties to Mr. F. De Peyster, the had the amount to loan, but after negotiation, did not ap-rove of the security offered, and the loan was not consumma-del. Refusal was made to pay the commissions, and action fought. The Justice in the Court below considered the kro-er entitled to the commission, and gave judgment in his favor prove of the security offered, and the loan was not consuminated. Refusal was made to pay the commissions, and action brought. The Justice in the Court below considered the broker entitled to the commission, and gave judgment in his favor. Appeal is made. This Court considers that the broker performed what he had agreed to do, and that the fault was in the security offered.—Judgment affirmed.

S. Martin vs. H. V. Butler.—Appeal in relation to a purchase of humber.—Judgment affirmed.

John B. Parks vs. Abel Whenton —Appeal.—The defendant hred premises, the cellar of which was inundated at the great rain in August, 1843, and he moved out in November without paying the rent, and action was brought to recover. The jury in the Court below deducted $40 for the damage he was supposed to have sustained. Appeal is made. This Court thinks the jury erred. The landlord made no covenant as to the Awater, and the tenant was bound to pay for the time he occupied.—Judgmentfreversed.

rin Wing.—Action for rent and covenant on lease.—The same lefence was offered, that the cellar had been overflowed by rain in August, 1843. The Justice halowed the defence, and cave judgment for the tenant. This Court thinks he erred, as he defence could not be received against a lease.—Judgment

John Gee vs. John Shepard-Appeal.-Action John Gee vs. John Shepard—Appeal.—Action of Trover in the Marine Court, to recover domages for loss on took levied upon at a shop in Division-street, it being contended, however, that they were exempt under the statute. It was contended, however, that they were manufactured articles kept for sale, and also that the form of lease was one of those now much in use, whereby a tenant agrees to mortgage every thing on the premises to the landlord in security for his rent, without reference to exemption law. A verdict was given in the Court below against the landlord, and appeal made. The Court considers, from the evidence, that the took had been kept for sale, and therefore liable to distress. Also, that the mortgage was valid and binding as between the landlord and tonant. Judgment, reversed.

Elizabeth Werdner vs. George Ketchum.—Judgment affirmed.
John Hutchings vs. Henry Ashley.-Judgment Joel Behrand, plaintiff in error, vs. William L. Clark, defendant in error,—Judgment for plaintiff in error.

From the Baltimore American. An Example for Foreign Travelers.

Dr. Scoresby, extensively known as an Eng-lish explorer in the North-West, and who was in this country a few months since on a visit, has left the British Navy for the Church. He is at present Vicar of Bradford, in Yorkshire, where he has in his charge a population of more than a hundred thousand persons. At a recent quarterly meeting of the Bradford (Yorkshire) Church Institution Dr. S. gave some account of his reception and the result of his observations in America. The following passage from his address will serve to show the light in which he regarded men and things in this country :

"Much unhappy feeling has been excited by incautious generalization, by some travellers, from such particular cases in regard to the American character, or from the putting forth of special incidents as if these were examples of the American mind or manners. And much injus-tics has been done, I do believe, by sweeping deductions from partial or limited facts. The Americans no doubt are sensitive, too sensitive, as to the opinions of strangers, and particularly of the British; but on that account we, especially, should be the more considerate and cautious. And people in this country are little aware how much damage to the foundations of a friendly feeling betwixt the two countries has been produced, or how much feel for supplying the conmulated by the illiberal reflections or unguarded slights of book.writing travelers, and by the unmeasured injustice of sentiment of public grators. or newspaper editors, which frequently go forth through the medium of the public press. To flatter, indeed, a country or a people, however near or interesting it may be to us; to escribe to it qualities it possesses not, or give it credit for virtues it does not maintain, would be not only wrong in principle but unmanly. But to be careful of unjustifiable censure or unnecessary of-fence; to be most considerate of the maintenance of friendly feelings and confiding relations are Christian obligations, which it would be well were they more generally regarded.

The nature of these observations will intim. ate to you the spirit by which I desire my communications respecting the United States to be guided. That spirit will not prevent me remarking on what I conceive to be defects and faults, with all frankness and candor, nor on the favorable contrast presented by many things in my own country, with the patriotism of an English man; nor will it hinder me from communicating facts or incidents which occurred in my progress, just as they impressed my own mind; spirit will, I trust, guard me from violating the principles of Christian charity, and defend you from coming to unjust conclusions, from partial characteristics."

characteristics."

Dr. S. prepared, during his sojourn in the United States, materials for a series of lectures, which he purposes delivering before the Church Institution of Bradford, an association composed of his parishioners.

The first of these has been delivered, and a report of it has reached us. It contains a mass of acts and statistical information respecting steam navigation in this country, with which most of our people are conversant, but which could not but prove highly interesting to the English reader The Doctor concluded by describing his visit to seemed very suspicious of him, and observed to another, "That is an English gentleman; I won't let him know any thing." With that exception, however, he never asked a question in America without getting not only a civil answer, but a satisfactory one, as far as it lay in the power of the person addressed to give one. In truth he had received in America the greatest possible civility and attention; and it was very much to the honor of the people of that country that though he had traveled 5,000 miles in it, he never met with the smallest insult from man, woman or child. He should be very glad, he said, if this characteristic of the Americans were as well followed in his own country; where, it is much to be regretted that, in many parts, there would be very frequent exceptions to that preva-lent civility which is found in America."

"If one of our unsophisticated brethren could be transported from his prairie home to the States, and be miraculously endowed with an understanding ear, while he read some party papers, and heard some political harangues, what manner of men would be describe, on returning to his country, as being the Big Min of the pale-faces?"

[N: Louis Permitter Assault and Battern.—In the Supreme Court of Massachusette, on Saturday, in the case of Chas. A Peabody against William P. Winchester and John R. THUNDERSTORM AND FIRE .- On Sunday, the 10th inst. a most terrific storm of thunder and light-ning passed over Toronto, U. C. It continued with unabated fury for about three or four hours The lightning was most vivid, and the thunder terrific. One flash set on fire the Pheasant Tavern, a large two story building, at the corner of Queen and Elizabeth streets, which was entirely consumed.

BUILDING IN CHICAGO .- We were aware that an their extent. We were informed by one of our mas-ter carpenters that 600 buildings had been erected this season. Our population must have increased very fast, as there are no vacant dwellings.

PATENT MEDICINES.—Many cry cut humbug, puffery, &c. at the very mention of what are called patent medicines. Now is this just er fair—let us see? Every educated man will admit that there are certain specific remedies for specific complaints, and on this principle is founded all medical practice. If then a man devotes his life to the study of any particular class of complaints—such as those of the skin, liver or lungs, and the remedies most suitable for them; who will say that he cannot better succeed in their core than if his mind and energies are divided in a miscellaneous practice among all disceed in their core than it his mind and energies are divided in a miscellaneous practice among all diseases incident to man? The fact is self-evident and yet half the world is stupid or thoughtless enough to cry out Quackery! when such facts are laid before them. True enough, there are charlatons engaged in the making or vending of medicines they know not the effect of—or such as have no effect—hut as well might you lassest that all Raphers. but as well might you lassert that all Bankers, Brokers and Speculators are scoundrels—that all Christians are hypocrites—that all lawyers are sharpers or pettifoggers—or that all Doctors are quacks—because many of each profession have so proved themselves. Sensible men who will think for themselves, will see the force of these facts and learn to discriminate between those who proclaim "one remedy for all diseases," or puff each article they have as a "cure all" and those who kave a regular scientific physician for each different complaint. Of the latter it is well known is the establishment. lishment of Comstock's, 21 Courtiandt street, where all that is found may be depended upon.

medical men the standing enemies of what they stigmatize as "putent medicines." And transcendant must be that Balsam

We cite a few from men whose opinions would not suffer by Dr. Wm. Y. Basis, Xeana, O. has entirely cured many of the most serious and obstinate cases of lung discusse, by Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, after they had baffled all ordinary remedies—"I never sold a medicine" says the Doctor,

"in which I had that entire confidence that I have in this,"
Chas. Streater, M.D. Wilkesharre, Pa. certifies that the Balsam had cured many in that place—espocially Wm. Wertz, Esq. Attorney at Law, of general debility and a cough of long standing.

"I have used Wistar's Baisam of Wia Cherry in cases of confirmed cough, pain in the side and spitting of blood, attended with other difficulties, and find it to be the most effica-cious remedy I havevery ret used, and feel no hesitancy in re-commending it to the public." Dr. at Size—Having just recovered from a most severe Chronic Rheumatism, with which I have been allited for many years, and having used various renedies without any success, I am induced to write to you in respect to Sanda's Saranarilla, to which valuable medicine I now owe my present enjoyment of health. Despiring of ever recovering from this distressing disease, and while laboring under the most nacute agony and pain. I was persuaded to try the Saranarilla so highly recommended for the cure of Rheumatism. I tried one bottle, and the little benefit I derived from that one, induced me to give it a fart trial, which I did by sending down to you for half a dozen bottles; and san now happy to say I find myself, for the first time in twelve years, well and able to attend to my fellow beings, that those similarly afflicted, may be induced to try this valuable remedy—Sanda's Saranaparilla.

I facturers of the YEAR CLOCKS would respectfully call the attention of the public to the upperailed improvement and decided advantages these Clocks have over all other time keepers now in use. They are warranted to run one year with once winding, and to keep good time, and are now for all at 108 Fulton-street, New. York.

The motion is produced by weights in the 20 day clocks, and by a main spring wound up-un tuses in the year clock. The power of the weights re-oring is retarded in this clock, and by a main spring wound upon a fusce in the year clock. The power of the weight or spring is retarded in this clock, and made to retain requirity in its motion by the ingenious arrangement of the escape ment and pendiulum. When you look at the clock, you perceive a git bail four and a half inches in diameter, at the end of a small steel rod. It revolves three times and a half one way, and the same number of times the other. At the upper end of the rod is an ingenious and delicate double lever movement, reaching is the escapement, which it eatches and leaves without any seasile friction. The spring than reacts upon the half, anded by its own gravity, and the rotary motion is continued, the escapement controlling the pendulum as in other clocks. This bell is hollow and has an internal apparatus, by which its rotary motion is regulated. There are four small weights at right a seles to each other, two are mounted upon a wire, which is a horizontal diameter of the globe. The wire has on it the thread of the screw, and each turn of it produres an exact movement of the weights to or from the center, which can be regulated to the smallest fraction of time. The other type weights are fastened to a semi-circular band composed of three different metals, the contraction or expansion of which also changes their position within the ball. The whole interior arrangement insures, it is believed, entire uniformity of motion in the globe.

It will at once be seen that the friction of the common pendumis avoided. The revolutions of the ball are found by experiment and observation to be isochropal.
